

Who We Are

As a global leader in oral and personal healthcare products, we provide store brand and contract manufacturing services to our partners.

Through trust, teamwork and a commitment to delivering best-in-class products, we enjoy valued, long-standing relationships with most of the major retailers throughout the world.

From concept to shelf, our dedicated research, development and manufacturing groups work in tandem with our customers every step of the way.

The end result: a sustainable competitive advantage that helps our customers win with their consumers.

We're committed to delivering exceptional quality and value.

We help customers win with their consumers.

Our fully integrated services create a competitive advantage.